MAY BLAYNEY
ALCAZAR

...ner of my studio.

"Little chicks will pose if they a... by something unusual. In the corner of my studio I place them on a stand in front of me and throw a lighted cigarette in front of them. They will huddle together and look in wonderment at the smoking object, as much as to say, 'Where there is smoke there is fire.' A fly, spider or piece of raw meat drawn

...n
...d' the
...ve, devo-
...her hen has
...ent.
... morning a few
...ted by a noise on
...d on investigation

...oints Physically, and if You ...ish Writer, to Properly ...teresting Friend.

...e that an owl
... certain tree
... I started
...arch for
...nt of

Hurrying up, there at the bottom of a large earthenware jar I found him floating in a foot and a half of water, with nothing but his great head showing above the surface, the feathers around his neck seeming to support him like a buoy. He had tried to get at the water in the jar and had succeeded only too well. He must have been in several hours, for when

So... friendly...
world as th...
up, old fe...
...d proc...